unic Nieman, the German woman rged with keeping a house of pro-tion and of detaining her little girls therein, was arraigned in police court yesterday and made a piec of being unable to understand English. See did not know what she waned done and the case was held open until 3 sion the officer who made the arrest and Harry McPherson were sworn. They testified to having offered money to the comes in pay-ment for being allowed to take liberment for being allowed to take liberties with one of her girls. They said that she said she was willing if the girl was, but their further testimony showed that the girl was not. John Heyman, who had claimed on the night of the arrest to be the woman's husband, was aworn. He awore that he was not married to her but that he had once lived with her in a block as a b-arder.

When questioned as to their baving lived together as man and wife he declined to answer.

One of the little girls was questioned closely on the stand by Assistant Prosecutor Rodgers. She told of the presence of Heyman and other men in their house, and said that May Howell came there about every other night to spend the night.

A warrant was issued for Heyman on the same charge as that issued for Mrs. Nieman. Heyman left the court soom as rapidly as possible after giving his testimony. The officers followed him and captured him on South Divion street. He will be given a hearing

At the close of the trial of Mrs. Nie man, Judge Hargerty sentenced her as heavily as the law would permit, ninty days to jail. The judge expressed regret that it was not to his power to make the penalty beavier.

SENT AWAY FROM HOME.

The Nieman Girls Cared for by Order of the Probate Court.

In probate court a hearing was had on the petition of Harry M. Paerson to have a guardian appointed for the girls. McPherson swore that he disman house and called the attention of the police to it. He was with Officer Whiteomb when they visited the house and the mother offered to allow liberfor $20. She told the witness that May was but 14 years old. Officer Whitcomb testified to a similar state of attains. Mrs. Nessian denied it all. She was 9 years old. Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Burns speaks German, and says that when he began to question Lizzie the mother told her in German net to answer him. Mrs. Nieman could dren were born and could not tell when she came to this country, but she stuck to the point that May was 17 years old. It was evident to the court that the mother was lying, and he ordered Lizzie sent to Coldwater and Mary was pisced in the hands of the poor department, to be indentured to some one who will give her a good ramply, who will watch over her care-

ARE FIGHTING HARD, Flora A. Poole's Suit for Damages in Progress.

In the trial of the case of Flora A. Poole vs. the Street Railway company yesterday a proposition was made to take the jury to Reed's lake, the scene of the accident, to view the ground. Mr. Wessellus objected, and the court ruled that the jury should not go. The trial lasted nearly all day. The defense offered by the company was that some one stepped on Mrs Poole's dress and threw her; that the ground on the south ede of the track was as smooth as it could reasonably be expected to Puole vs. the Street Railway company south ede of the track was as amouth as it could reasonably be expected to be, and that the landing on the north side of the track provided for passengers to alight was as good as it could be made. They argued that she took ber own chances when she got off on the side opposite the landing or piatform. The arguments were very nearly closed yesterday and the case will go to the jury early today.

Surroughs' Case Still On. Judge Admt excused the jury in the Judge Admit excised the jury in the case of C. Summer Burrougns va. Eastman, Johnson and Hurley in the circuit court yesterday on account of the enkness of Juror Goodali. The aftermon was spent by the attorneys in arguing law points. The main question under consideration was the right of an officer to make an arrest without process for misdementory. Mr. Mc. Brite claimed the supreme court had seid that no such right could exist under the court of the court held that no such right could exist unless the misdemeaner amounts to a breach of the prace. The city ordinance graphing such power to the police in case a violation of the ordinances should take piace in their presence, he held to be unconstitutional.
